Divemaster SDI

SDI/TDI Divemaster This course details the overall body of knowledge and skills that the candidate seeking professional certification as an SDI Divemaster or TDI Technical Divemaster is expected to have a firm understanding of.

Assistant Instructor

Earning the SDI Assistant Instructor rating is one of the most important steps along the way within an SDI, TDI and/or ERDI Dive Leader's career, as it is where you will learn how to successfully assist an SDI Open Water Scuba Diver Instructor in the training of new divers and how to train seasoned divers in certain arenas. This course has been meticulously crafted to help further your knowledge and experience with regard to the theories and techniques involved in teaching scuba diving as a whole. In this course you will have the opportunity to delve into how and why people learn; common barriers associated with learning and ways to overcome those barriers; the SDI Teaching Philosophy and why it works; risk management and how it applies to being a dive leader; and new ways to successfully market and sell scuba

Open Water Scuba Diver Instructor

The SDI OWSDI Course builds on the foundation established via the SDI Divemaster course and the candidates' experience. Among other things, this course examines successful teaching techniques, how to implement them and how different age groups and personalities successfully learn. In addition, candidates will be given the opportunity to hone their general diving knowledge and perfect their techniques. Earning the SDI Open Water Scuba Diver Instructor (OWSDI) rating is one of the most important steps of an SDI, TDI and/or ERDI Dive Professional's career, as it is where you will learn to successfully train new and seasoned divers alike.
